Customary Fishing Information Manual

Introduction

Ko te korero te puna o te whakaaro nui, te puna waiu mo tatou katoa

Through information comes understanding, the life sustenance of us all

The Ministry of Fisheries (the Ministry) is the lead government agency concerned with the management of New Zealand fisheries - mainly in the domain of Tangaroa, the Ocean, but also extending to freshwater.

Tangata Whenua and Tangata Kaitiaki/Tiaki Kaitiaki have a pivotal role to play in all aspects of fisheries management, both as Treaty partners and as experts skilled in fisheries Management.

In order for the management of New Zealand's fisheries to be the best possible, and with the Deed of Settlement in minds, the Ministry and Tangata Whenua need to work together both locally and nationally.

To be able to work well together, as fishery managers and as treaty partners, both the ministry and Tangata Whenua need to have an understanding of the way in which each other work - the kaupapa, the tikanga, and the kawa of each other.

The Ministry would like to acknowledge the way that Tangata Whenua have met this challenge, and have helped us to understand the needs, concerns, and processes that affect you.

This manual is designed to assist in the understanding of Customary Fisheries Legislation and options available for Customary Management.

The Settlement Act

Customary Fishing provisions:

- Customary food gathering authorised by Kaitiaki;
- Establishment of Mātaitai reserves
- Making of bylaws to manage fisheries within Mātaitai reserves
 - Bylaws apply equally to all individuals;

Allows Kaitiaki to authorise take for marae purposes, irrespective of such bylaws

Law relating to Customary Fishing Rights

It was recognised in the preamble of the Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992 (paragraph (l)(iv)) that the Crown would introduce legislation empowering the making of regulations recognising and providing for customary food gathering and the special relationship between the Tangata Whenua and places of importance for customary food gathering. It stipulated, however, that such food gathering must not be commercial in any way nor involve commercial gain or trade.

Section 10 of that Act went on to deal with the effect of the settlement on non-commercial Māori fishing rights and interests. It stated that the Minister would recommend to the Governor-General in Council the making of regulations pursuant to section 89 of the Fisheries Act 1983 (Now Section 189 of the Fisheries Act 1996) to recognise and provide for customary food gathering as stated above. Again it stressed that such gathering could be neither commercial in any way nor for pecuniary gain or trade.

Section 10 (d) specifically provides that rights and interests in non-commercial fishing whether by common law (including customary law and aboriginal title), the Treaty of Waitangi, statute, or otherwise would have henceforth no legal effect unless provided for by application of 10 (c)- Regulations made under S89 of the Fisheries Act 1983 (Now Section 186 of the Fisheries Act 1996)

The effect of Settlement on non-commercial customary Māori fishing rights and interests has been spelled out in subsequent case law:

In NZ Federation of Commercial Fishermen (Inc) v Minister of Fisheries 27/4/97, McGechan J, HC Wellington CP237/95; CP294/96, McGechan J concluded (at pp 146-148) that the effect of the Settlement Act was that, whilst claims to customary fishing rights continued to give rise to Treaty obligations and requirements to develop facilitating policies and regulations, nevertheless claims to those rights have no legal effect, are not enforceable in civil proceedings, and are not available as a defence in criminal or other proceedings with one exception. That exception is that enforceability and availability as a defence will exist to such extent as the rights or interests giving rise to claims in respect of Māori customary fishing are recognised in regulations made under S89.

In Manukau v MOF 29/7/98, Salmon J, HC Auckland M984/97, the applicants sought a declaration that they were statutorily entitled to carry out customary fishing rights under the Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975, the Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992, and the fisheries legislation. Following the approach taken by Fisher J in Berkett v Tauranga District Court [1992] 3 NZLR 206 and the Court of Appeal in NZ Māori Council v A-G [1987] 1 NZLR 641; (1987) 6 NZAR 353 (CA), the Court confirmed that there can be no independent sovereignty arising from the 1835 Declaration of Independence by the Confederation of Chiefs of the United Tribes of New Zealand.

Salmon J (at p 14) considered that in light of the enactment of the Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992 (which repealed S88(2) Fisheries Act 1983) and the decision in Hoani Te Heuheu Tukino v Aotea District Māori Land Board [1941] AC 308 (that the Treaty is not justifiable except to the extent that it is incorporated into domestic law), it was no longer possible to support the proposition that customary fishing rights derive directly from Part 2 of the Treaty of Waitangi, although the Crown continues to be subject to obligations relating to customary fishing as a result of the provisions of the Treaty. The Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992 was binding on all New Zealanders, including those who are not signatories to the Deed of Settlement. Salmon J also approved the approach taken in NZ Federation of Commercial Fishermen (Inc) v Minister of Fisheries (above).

Section 186 of the Fisheries Act 1996 then reflects the power that the Governor-General has to make such regulations. Subsection (1) states that the Governor-General may from time to time, by Order in Council, make regulations recognising and providing for customary food gathering by Māori and the special relationship between Tangata Whenua and places of importance for customary food gathering (including tauranga ika and mahinga mātaītai), to the extent that such food gathering is neither commercial in any way nor for pecuniary gain or trade. This is the empowering section but it again stresses that any such customary regulations must be restricted to exclude gathering that is commercial in any way.

The regulations were then created in the form of the Fisheries (Kaimoana Customary Fishing) Regulations 1998 and “Customary food gathering” is defined in regulation 2 as follows:

“Customary food gathering” means the traditional rights confirmed by the Treaty of Waitangi and the Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992, being the taking of fish, aquatic life, or seaweed or managing of fisheries resources, for a purpose authorised by Tangata Kaitiaki/Tiaki, including koha, to the extent that such purpose is consistent with Tikanga Māori and is neither commercial in any way nor for pecuniary gain or trade:

Again the exclusion of any commercial element is stressed in the legislation.

Likewise in the same regulations, enhancement of fisheries resources within a mātaītai reserve is catered for. Regulation 32 states:

Subject to regulation 11 any Tangata Kaitiaki/Tiaki for a mātaītai reserve may authorise any person to take fisheries resources from any area within that mātaītai reserve and to release those fisheries resources within another part of that mātaītai reserve, for the purpose of enhancing the stock or stocks, despite any bylaw applying under these regulations.

Regulation 11 simply sets out the process and form of the necessary authorisation but it again stresses that the authorisation must be for “customary food gathering purposes”. The enhancement provisions are specific in that they allow the movement of fish etc. from one part of a mātaītai to another but not for removal to a land-based facility.

Regulation 27A of Fisheries (Amateur Fishing) Regulations 1986, as amended by section 37 of the Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992, allows for the taking of fish, aquatic life, or seaweed for the purposes of hui or tangi, or traditional non-commercial fishing use approved by the Director-General. Regulation 27A cannot apply where an area has been gazetted under the Fisheries (Kaimoana Customary Fishing) Regulations 1998, however, where it does apply it still specifies that the gathering can only be for non-commercial purposes and is quite specific about what those purposes can be.

The Fisheries (Customary Fishing) Notice 2006 (No. F357) sets out the Chief Executive’s conditions relating to the issue of a Customary fishing authorisation under Regulation 27(1)(a) and (b). In paragraph 6(2)(b) it again states that any taking of fish, aquatic life or seaweed must not be commercial in any way or for pecuniary gain or trade.

There is then a section of the Fisheries Act 1996 which sets out when fish are deemed to be taken or possessed for the purposes of sale.

Section 193 states:

Fish in licensed premises or premises where food sold deemed to have been taken for purpose of sale –

(1) For the purpose of this Act, all fish, aquatic life, or seaweed in any premises owned or operated by any licensed fish receiver, shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have been taken, and to be possessed, for the purpose of sale.

(2) For the purpose of this Act, all fish, aquatic life, or seaweed in any premises where food is sold, prepared for sale, stored, or processed shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have been taken, and to be possessed, for the purpose of sale.

Section 194 states:

Fish in fish farm deemed to be farmed and possessed for sale –

For the purpose of this Act, all fish, aquatic life, or seaweed in, on, or transferred from any fish farm shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to be farmed, and to be possessed, for the purpose of sale.

Section 195 states:

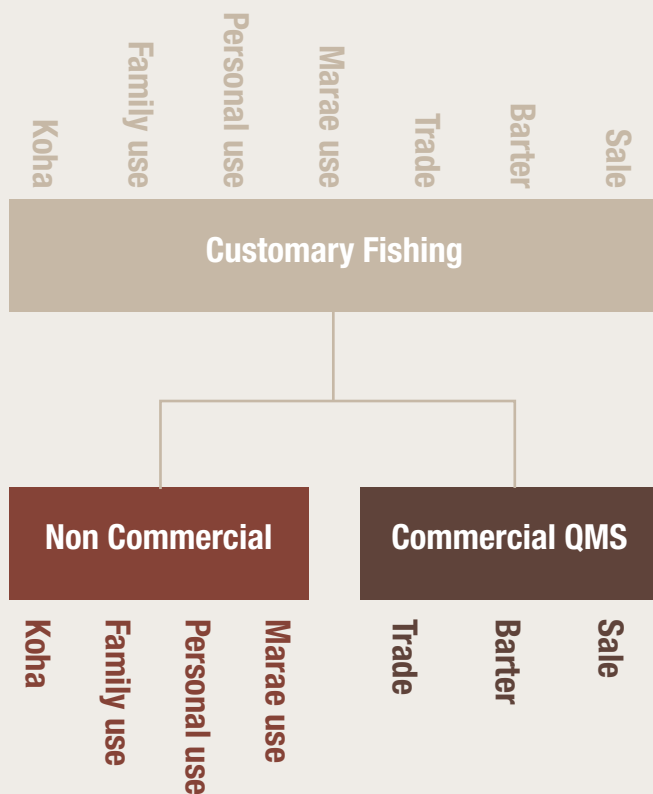

Fish in excess of certain quantities deemed to have been acquired or possessed for purpose of sale –

For the purpose of this Act, any person in possession of any fish, aquatic life, or seaweed of an amount or quantity exceeding 3 times the amateur individual daily limit (if any) prescribed in respect of that fish, aquatic life, or seaweed, shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have acquired, or to possess, the fish, aquatic life, or seaweed for the purpose of sale unless the fish, aquatic life, or seaweed was lawfully taken by a person under regulations made under section 186 of this Act.

Each of these sections is relevant to the taking and/or accumulation of fish other than through the use of a commercial fishing permit.

Finally, the law relating to the setting up of fish farms is set out in section 301 of the Fisheries Act 1996 and The Freshwater Fish Farming Regulations 1983. The essential starting point is that any such farm must be licensed and by its very nature it is deemed to be a commercial enterprise.

Customary Fishing under Regulation 27

In areas not yet covered by the Customary Fishing Regulations, customary fishing is governed by Regulation 27 of the Amateur fishing regulations. Regulation 27A provides for the taking of fish for the purposes of a hui, or a tangi.

With the terms of this regulation, hui and tangi have been interpreted to mean specific traditional gatherings. Once Customary Fishing Regulations cover the whole country, Regulation 27 will cease to be used for any saltwater fisheries, but will continue to be the only mechanism for customary fishing for freshwater fish species covered by the Quota Management Systems (e.g. eels and lamprey in the North and Chatham Islands).

Explanatory note

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 1 March 2006, amend the Fisheries (Amateur Fishing) Regulations 1986 (the "principal regulations"). The main effect of the amendments on the principal regulations is as follows:

- Regulation 19A is amended to make a drafting correction:
- New regulation 27A is inserted to enable authorisations to take fish, aquatic life, or seaweed for the purposes of a hui or tangi to be obtained directly from a Marae Committee, Māori Committee, Runanga, or Māori Trust Board. Previously (under regulation 27) fishers obtained authorisations from a Marae Committee, Maori Committee, Runanga, or Māori Trust Board acting under a delegation from the chief executive. The new provision enables those bodies to grant authorisations in their own right and provides for the procedure that must be followed when granting authorisations. It also sets out offences relating to the granting of authorisations:
- Regulation 27 is consequentially amended to remove references to "hui" and "tangi", as authorisations to take fish, aquatic life, or seaweed for those purposes are now dealt with under new Regulation 27A:
- Regulation 29 (which relates to offences and penalties) is consequentially amended to insert a reference to new regulation 27A:
- A new Schedule is added that prescribes the form that must be used for an authorisation granted under new regulation 27A.

Relationship to other Customary Regulations

The defence in Regulation 27A is available if a fisher has not been issued with a customary permit pursuant to:

- a) Fisheries (Kaimoana Customary Fishing) Regulations 1998

Additionally regulation 27A is available for offences involving tuna (eels), koura (Freshwater Crayfish) or fresh water mussels.

- The Area's from which species are to be taken from; name the specific area or position between landmarks, i.e beach, bay, harbour
- The Fishing Method by which each species is to be taken e.g. set net, fishing lines, scuba or tanks, free diving (snorkel), long line, hand gathering. Please advise the authorisation holder that any floats used must be marked with the authorisation number. (Initials, name and phone number would also be helpful).

- Note: Cross out any lines not used, in this section of the form
- 10) Any other conditions - record here any conditions you wish to impose on the gathering of kaimoana e.g. Scuba not allowed, NZ Rec Fishing Rules apply, etc

Point of Interest

- Purpose hui or a tangi.
- Tangi is self-explanatory
- Hui is a gathering – “in the traditional sense”
- Regulation 27A overrides Amateur Regulations made pursuant to the Fisheries Act 1996.
- It does not override the Conservation Act or associated Regulations
- It does not override Fisheries Act (i.e) 186 closures
- It does not override Commercial Regulations
- Authorisations should be issued unaltered.
- It does not override rohe moana declared under the Kaimoana or the South Island Customary Regulations
- If mistakes are made cross out the form entirely and redo another authority.
- Ensure that no alterations can be made once the authorisation has been issued to the fisher.

NOTE: WARNING

Failure to produce the authorisation on request will negate its validity and may render the fisher(s) and those in possession of the fish, aquatic life or seaweed liable to prosecution.

Offences and Penalties – Authorised Representative

A GUIDE TO REGULATION 27A OF THE FISHERIES AMATEUR FISHING REGULATION- AS AMENDED BY THE 1992 TREATY OF WAITANGI (FISHERIES SETTLEMENT ACT) EFFECTIVE 1 MARCH 2006.

Question 1: How can I legally take fish for customary purposes?

Answer: Currently the law allows fish to be taken for customary purposes in the following ways:

- In accordance with the general limits applying to all amateur fishers; or
- Using a customary authorisation under the regulation 27 or 27A of the Fisheries (Amateur Fishing) Regulations 1986; or
- Using a customary authorisation under the Fisheries (Kaimoana Customary Fishing) Regulations 1998 or under the Fisheries (South Island Customary Fishing) Regulations 1999.

Question 2: What does Regulation 27 provide for after 1 March 2006?

Answer: Regulation 27 provides for the taking of fish for a traditional non-commercial fishing purpose (but not Hui or Tangi) that has been specifically approved by the Chief Executive of the Ministry of Fisheries. However, regulation 27 will now apply in limited circumstances and the majority of customary fishing is expected to be carried out under regulation 27A.

Question 3: What does Regulation 27A provide?

Answer: Regulation 27A and associated gazette notice provides for the taking of fish for the purposes of Hui or Tangi. There are conditions that apply to issuers and fishers.

Question 4: Have Hui and Tangi been defined?

Answer: Associated activities with Tangi are generally well accepted. The word 'Hui' has not been defined in regulations but the High Court has said that the word Hui is used in its traditional sense and is not just any gathering but like a Tangi is a discrete event.

Question 5: What are the 2006 Changes?

Answer: Some of the conditions previously contained in the gazette notice have now been incorporated into a new regulation – regulation 27A. The major change is a range of Offences and Penalties that now apply to Authorised Representatives.

Question 6: Has the Chief Executive set out conditions under which fish can be taken for Hui or Tangi?

Answer: Yes. A new gazette notice will be in effect imposing conditions on fishers taking fish for Hui or Tangi pursuant to a regulation 27A authorisation.

Question 7: What are the conditions that will apply when I'm fishing for Hui or Tangi?

Answer: If you want to take fish for Hui or Tangi you must check that your authorisation has all sections completed and abide by the following conditions:

- You must have in your possession a written regulation 27A authorisation
- You must have the authorisation in your possession during taking and transporting the fish;
- You must get a written authorisation from an Authorised Representative of a Marae Committee, or a Māori Committee, or a Runanga or a Māori Trust Board that represents Tangata Whenua that is a Iwi or Hapu who hold mana whenua over the area from which the fish are to be taken;
- Any static (set or left) fishing gear must have a surface buoy or tag with the authorisation number on it. Should also name and have a contact phone number on the tag.
- The written authorisation must contain:
 - the name address and contact details of the holder;
 - the names of all the harvesters who will take the fish;
 - the occasion and place where the fish will be used;
 - which species can be taken and how much of each species; Quantities must state number of fish or the greenweight that can be taken;
 - the date on which fishing can occur (note the authorisation is only valid for 48 hours from this date);
 - where fish can be taken from and where they must be landed;
 - the signature and name of the person who gave the authorisation to take the fish.

NOTE: The authorisation form must have all parts completed (except the optional conditions) for it to be valid. Fishing with an invalid authorisation can result in prosecution or an infringement notice.

Question 8: Can I sell some or all of the fish caught under the authorisation?

Answer: No. You must not sell, barter, exchange or trade any fish taken under any authorisation for money or other items under any circumstances, including raffles or fund-raising.

Question 9: How precise does “place of landing” have to be?

Answer: “Place of landing” has not been defined but as with the “area” of fishing the landing place must be reasonably specific. For example a small bay may be given as a place of landing but a large bay would need to have a landing place better defined within that area (i.e.) between two local landmarks.

Question 10: What is greenweight?

Answer: The Greenweight of a fish is the weight before any processing takes place (i.e.) before removal of head, fins, gut or shucking of shellfish etc.

Question 11: Can the Authorised Representative impose other conditions?

Answer: Yes. The Authorised Representative can impose conditions on what fishing methods can be used to gather certain species and any size limits for the species.

In addition the Authorised Representative can also require that the harvesters inform them of actual quantities taken be provided to them. Quantities more than those authorised cannot be taken.

Question 12: Are these other conditions legal requirements?

Answer: Yes. If the Authorised Agents fill out the sections with these requirements than they can become part of the legal conditions of harvest.

Question 13: Can I take my recreational entitlement at the same time?

Answer: Yes, provided that the methods used, size and bag limits etc are within limits set under the Amateur Fishing Regulations.

Question 14: Why are these new regulations and conditions required?

Answer: The Ministry of Fisheries is concerned about the activities of some fishers that are claiming to be exercising a customary right without the prior permission of Tangata Whenua. The expressed intent of these fishers to expand their fishing activities also has the potential to undermine the legitimate use of customary fishing rights, and the current fisheries management system. These activities have the potential to escalate and may impact upon the liability of the Ministry to manage certain fish stocks sustainably and undermines the efforts of Tangata Whenua to manage the customary take in their area.

Question 15: What happens if a person is caught fishing without a regulation 27A authorisation or a valid authorisation from the Marae Committee, Māori Committee, Runanga or Māori Trust Board of Tangata Whenua?

Answer: The fisher will not have a defence of exercising a customary fishing right and may be liable to prosecution if they are fishing in contravention of the provisions of the Amateur Fishing Regulations.

Question 16: What happens if a person issues regulation 27A Authorisation in breach of the regulations?

Answer: The Authorised Representative or issuer, will have committed an offence and will be liable to prosecution. The following are examples of breaches which may be prosecuted.

- Authorisation not in the form as set out in the regulations
- Conditions not applied (except optional ones)
- Authorised Representatives name and contact details not notified to Ministry of Fisheries
- Authorised Representative does not represent Tangata Whenua for the area for which the Authorisation relates.
- Authorisation issued for areas where Kaimoana or South Island regulations apply
- Authorisation issued for commercial, pecuniary gain or trade
- No unique sequential number allocated to the Authorisation form
- Date/time not shown on form
- All sections (except optional) not completed
- Fails to keep copy of Authorisation
- Fails to produce a copy of the Authorisation when requested to by a Fishery Officer

Question 17: What are the Offences and Penalties that apply?

Answer: Issuing an authorisation in breach of the provisions of regulation 27A can result in penalties of up to $10,000 Fishing in breach of the provisions of regulation 27A including provisions/conditions of the gazette can result in penalties of up to $10,000 and up to $20,000 for some species and quantities. Infringement notices with penalties of up to $500 can also apply. Catch inspections will be undertaken from time to time by Fishery Officers or Honorary Fishery Officers. Please keep authorisations available for inspection. Co-operation will be appreciated.

Question 18: Who can decide how much fish can be taken and where it should be taken from?

Answer: The only person who can decide on the quantities of fish that can be taken and the area of harvest is an individual authorised by the Marae Committee, Māori Committee, Runanga or Māori Trust Board that represents Tangata Whenua who are the Iwi or the Hapu that have manawhenua over the area from which the fish is to be taken.

Question 19: Who can appoint people to give authorisations?

Answer: The appointment of people to issue regulation 27A authorisations to take fish for Hui or Tangi is solely the decision of the relevant Marae Committee, Māori Committee, Runanga or Māori Trust Board.

Question 20: What happens if an authorised person has not been appointed by the relevant Marae Committee, Māori Committee, Runanga or Māori Trust Board or notified to MFish when the new regulation 27A and Chief Executive conditions come into effect?

Answer: Those people who have already been appointed as Authorised Representatives are able to continue to issue authorisations under regulation 27A. If a person has not been appointed by the relevant organisation that cannot issue authorisations within the relevant organisation issued by someone approved by Tangata Whenua.

Question 21: Does MFish need to be notified who the Authorised Representatives are?

Answer: Yes. The name and contact details must be submitted to the nearest Ministry of Fisheries Office before the Authorised Representatives start issuing authorisations. This makes it easier for the compliance officers to determine whether a fisher has a valid authorisation issued by someone approved by Tangata Whenua.

Question 22: Does MFish need to be notified when authorisations are issued?

Answer: No, however it does make inspections and compliance support on behalf of the Authorised Representatives much easier if a copy of the authorisation is sent to the local MFish Office.

Question 23: Has the Ministry printed authorisations books, which Iwi and Hapu Authorised Representatives can use?

Answer: Yes. If you wish to use them, regulation 27A authorisation books are available from the Ministry of Fisheries Office in your district. They are individually numbered triplicate forms to make it easier for you to administer the taking of fish in your area.

Question 24: Can the authorisation form other than the one supplied by MFish be used?

Answer: Yes, but it must follow the same format and contain the same information as the form that is specified in the schedule to regulation 27A. It must also have a unique sequential number 1,2,3,4, will not be sufficient. MFish supplied books have pre-printed unique sequential numbers.

Question 25: What happens if an area has been gazetted under the Kaimoana or South Island Regulations and Kaitiaki appointed?

Answer: Regulations 27 and 27A do NOT apply once an area and Kaitiaki has been established pursuant to the Kaimoana (except as outlined below) or South Island Customary Regulations. Customary fishing in these areas can only be approved by the appointed Tangata Kaitiaki/Tiaki.

Question 26: Can a commercial fishing vessel be used to take customary fish under regulation 27A?

Answer: Yes. BUT all fish on a commercial vessel is considered (deemed) to be for sale. Each situation is assessed on its merits. If the skipper/owner makes sure an authorisation is onboard and the fish are in labelled containers this will assist if the catch is inspected by Fishery Officers. (See also Question 6) Commercial Owners are advised to obtain a Section 111 approval before using their vessels to take customary catch.

Question 27: Is further information available for those appointed as authorised representatives?

Answer: MFish has regulation 27A information which they are able to make available to Iwi/Hapu groups and their Authorised Representatives. Contact your local MFish office for more details.

Question 28: Where can I get further information this?

Answer: You can contact your Marae Committee, Māori Committee, Runanga or Māori Trust Board of the Ministry of Fisheries for further information. The Ministry of Fisheries also has a brochure which covers the regulation 27A requirements of Customary Fishing.

Contact any Ministry of Fisheries office or call contacts listed in this manual. A copy of the regulations can be obtained from Bookshops. The exact title to ask for is the "Fisheries (Amateur Fishing) Amendment Regulations (No 2) 2005.

A Guide to the Kaimoana Customary Fishing Regulations 1998

The regulations have been developed since the passing of the Treaty of Waitangi (Fisheries Claims) Settlement Act 1992.

APPLICATION

Question: What do the Kaimoana Fishing Regulations cover?

- Answer:
- Non-commercial customary Fishing

 - They do not provide for commercial fishing
 - Anyone given permission to take fish under the customary fishing regulations cannot trade the fish
 - Also cover the establishment of mataitai

- Answer:
- Yes. The introduction of the regulations clearly states the relationship between the regulations, the TOW (FC)S Act 1992 and the Treaty of Waitangi itself
 - Also the definition of customary food gathering in the regulations refers to traditional rights confirmed by the TOW (FC)S Act 1992
 - Anyone using or administering the regulations must comply with the TOW (FC)S Act 1992
 - The Act requires anyone making decisions that affect customary non commercial fishing to act in accordance with the principles of the TOW

Question: When do the Kaimoana Customary Regulations apply?

- Answer:
- Only apply in an area when Tangata Whenua have appointed TK/T for that area
 - Until then, the only rule allowing the taking of fish for customary purposes is: -Regulation 27 of the Fisheries (Amateur Fishing) Regulations 1986

 - Minister will confirm appointment if there are no disputes.

Question: What if there is a dispute over a notification or who holds Tangata Whenua status?

- Answer:

- any other matters the TTK considers necessary

Question: Is there a standard form a customary fishing authorisations?

Answer: • Yes. Whilst fishing and transporting fish to venue.

Question: Can a non-maori apply for a customary fishing authorisation?

Answer: • Yes, TTK may decide to issue to non Tangata Whenua.

Question: What are the main responsibilities for TTK?

Answer: • Issue authorisations

- Give directions to customary fishers
- Keep accurate records
- Take part in fisheries management processes
- Prepare management plans
- Meet and report with Tangata Whenua
- Show records of authorisations to any FO if requested

RESPONSIBILITIES OF FISHERS

Important Information for Users of Authorisations

- TTK should ensure people receiving authorisations are fully aware of their responsibilities and legal requirements
- Authorisations must not be changed/alterd in any way

- authorisations must be shown on request to FO's or IFO's

- fish in possession of customary fisher must comply with authorisation

- actual fish caught must be reported.

Can customary fishing be carried out from a commercial fishing vessel?

- YES - Fish must be kept in separate containers

Purpose of Fishing Activity

A commercial fisher who, pursuant to commercial authorities and authorisations (Permits and Quota), is carrying out the activity of commercial fishing, is "taking fish for the purpose of sale".

That same fish, sometime later either at landing or in a LFR premise is still fish "taken for the purpose of sale".

It is unlikely that the courts would allow a subsequent change in status of that fish into recreational catch or customary catch once it has been taken and sorted onboard the vessel.

On the other hand, if a commercial fisherman took fish for a customary purpose (whether also commercial fishing or not), then the status of that fish cannot be changed to "commercial fish for the purpose of sale".

In the summary, the purpose of taking fish is established at the time the fish is taken.

The practice of replacing commercial fish later on with fish taken for non-commercial customary purpose (or vice versa), would not be consistent with the principles of the Fisheries Act.

Compliance issues - Questions and Answers

1. Question: Can a commercial vessel be used to take non commercial Customary Fish?

Answer: Yes. Section 111 of the Fisheries Act 1996 will apply. A valid authorisation must be on board. Any fish taken will need to be identified as per Regulation 13 of the South Island and Kaimoana Regulations.

2. Question: Can a commercial fisher or non-commercial fisher obtain payment for catching the fish?

Answer: No.

3. Question: When is the fish designated Commercial or non-commercial customary?

- Answer: When the fish is taken (generally this will be when the fish comes onboard). A valid commercial operation and a valid non commercial authorisation will need to exist if fish is taken for both purposes.
4. Question: Who is responsible for the fish on board a vessel?
- Answer: The skipper/master of the vessel (whether commercial or not) and all fishermen.
5. Question: What information is required on containers of non commercial fish onboard a commercial vessel?
- Answer: Regulations state “marked containers” “clearly identified as taken for customary food gathering purposes”. There is no definition to the exact nature of wording. A reference to the authorisation and/or some detail would be of assistance for the Fishery Officers (including Honorary Fishery Officers)
6. Question: Once landed who is responsible for the non-commercial customary fish?
- Answer: Those people in control/possession of the fish. (Note offences and penalties)
7. Question: Can non-commercial fish be stored for later use?
- Answer: Yes that is the purpose indicated on authorisation made pursuant to the South Island Kaimoana Regulations.
- NOTE: Fish can only be stored on a venue or venues specific basis (i.e) for use at the venue or venues stated on the authorisations (see Regulation 11(2)).
8. Question: Can non-commercial fish be stored on commercial processing premises (LFR's)?
- Answer: Yes. Section 192 of the Fisheries act 1996 applies. The Chief Executive will need to approve/condition etc.
9. Question: Can a LFR/Processor charge for possessing non commercial fish?
- Answer: Yes. Any changes will need to be outside sale/barter trade or pecuniary gain. Usually charges relate to processing costs including packaging. There should be no association between charges made and the fish (i.e) payment in kind.
10. Question: Who is responsible of Health and Hygiene issues associated with the taking, storage and distribution of non-commercial fish?
- Answer: The Fisheries Act and associated regulations allow for the taking, storage and distribution of the fish. Health and Hygiene issues are not enforced by MFish.
11. Question: Once fish is put into storage (Pataka) how can it be removed?
- Answer: Legislation is silent on this issue. Once fish is legally taken and placed into the Pataka the scope of the South Island and Kaimoana regulations end. Fish taken out of the Pataka would then revert back to the “onus of proof” contained in the Fisheries Act (i.e) Those in possession would need to prove that it was not taken contrary to the Act of regulations. It is suggested that Tangata Kaitiaki Tiaki’s should “authorise” the removal of fish from storage using the authorisation associated with regulations 11 of the South Island and Kaimoana regulations. It is likely that this system would be specified but the Chief Executive as a condition of having non commercial customary fish on commercial (LFR) premises.
12. Question: Who is responsible for ensuring that non-commercial customary fish is not sold/bartered traded etc.?
- Answer: Those in possession of the fish. The South Island and Kaimoana regulations indicates that fish take is not for sale etc. Fish sold/traded etc. contrary to the regulations and subject to normal Fisheries Act/ regulatory sanctions, (Note: this can include forfeiture an fines up to $250,000).
13. Question: What species may be taken and held in store for distribution?
- Answer: All species managed by MFish.
- NOTE: must be held for a specific venue or venues. See Question 7.
14. Question: Can non-commercial customary fish be held in holding pots?
- Answer: Yes - The fish have been taken and therefore the “onus of proof” rests with those in possession of the fish. The holding pot is either a transitional situation or storage. In all cases the fish will need to be associated with a valid authorisation.

Key Difference

R27A Fisheries (Amateur Fishing) Regulations 1986	Customary Regulations
Applies to NZ fisheries waters	Applies to NZ fisheries waters and South Island fisheries waters
Provides a defence for amateur fishers	Enables Māori to manage traditional customary fishing areas i.e. by way of Mātaitai reserves, bylaws and authorisations
Authorisations only to be issued for tangi or hui	Authorisations may be issued for any customary food gathering purposes determined by TTK/TKT.
Authorisations must be in writing as per the form prescribed in the Customary Fishing Conditions Notice 2006	Allows verbal authorisations in some circumstances
May provide a defence to an amateur fisheries infringement offence.	None of the offences prescribed in the Kaimoana regulations are infringement offences
Authorisations can only be issued pursuant to R27A if a Tangata Kaitiaki/Tiaki has not been appointed for the area, pursuant to the Kaimoana Regs

Key Similarities

- Provides that authorisations can be issued for customary purposes (albeit limited purposes under Regulation 27A)
- Authorisations can only be issued by an authorised person

This section outlines the circumstances surrounding the use of commercial vessels to take non-commercial customary fish, the use of commercial and non-commercial premises to process and store non-commercial customary fish for later distribution of purposes designated by Tangata Tiaki/Tangata Kaitiaki.

The concept referred to in this section is generally referred to as a Pataka (storehouse) approach to distribution of non-commercial customary fish.

PURPOSE OF FISHING ACTIVITY

A commercial fisher who, pursuant to commercial authorities and authorisations (Permits and Quota), is carrying out the activity of commercial fishing, is "taking fish for the purpose of sale".

That same fish, sometime later either at landing or in a LFR premise is still fish "taken for the purpose of sale".

It is unlikely that the Courts would allow a subsequent change in status of that fish into recreational catch or customary catch once it has been taken and sorted on board the vessel.

On the other hand, if a commercial fisherman took fish for a customary purpose (whether also commercial fishing or not), then the status of that fish cannot be changed to “commercial fish for the purpose of sale”.

In summary, the purpose of taking of fish is established at the time the fish is taken.

The practice of replacing commercial fish later on with fish taken for non-commercial customary purpose (or vice versa), would not be consistent with the principles of the Fisheries Act.

COMPLIANCE ISSUES – QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1. Question: Can a commercial vessel be used to take non commercial Customary Fish?

Answer: Yes. A valid authorisation must be on board. Any fish taken will need to be identified as per Regulation 13 of the South Island and Kaimoana Regulations.

2. Question: Can a commercial fisher or other non-commercial fisher obtain payment for catching the fish?

Answer: No.

3. Question: When is the fish designated Commercial or non commercial customary?

Answer: When the fish is taken (generally this will be when the fish comes on board). A valid commercial operation and a valid non commercial customary authorisation will need to exist if fish is taken for both purposes.

4. Question: Who is responsible for the fish on board a vessel?

Answer: The skipper/master of the vessel (whether commercial or not) and all fishermen.

5. Question: What information is required on containers of non commercial fish on board a commercial vessel?

Answer: Regulations state “marked containers” “clearly identified as taken for customary food gathering purposes”. There is no definition to the exact nature of the wording. A reference to the authorisation and/or some detail (see suggested process) would be of assistance for Fishery Officers (including Honorary Fishery Officers).

6. Question: Once landed who is responsible for the non-commercial customary fish?

Answer: Those people in control/possession of the fish. (Note offences and penalties)

7. Question: Can non-commercial fish be stored for later use?

Answer: Yes if that is the purpose indicated on authorisation made pursuant to the South Island Kaimoana Regulations.

NOTE: Fish can only be stored on a venue or venues specific basis (i.e) for use at the venue or venues stated on the authorisations (see) Regulation 11(2).

8. Question: Can non-commercial fish be stored on commercial processing premises (LFR's)?

Answer: Yes. Section 192 of the Fisheries Act 1996 applies. The Chief Executive will need to approve/condition etc.

9. Question: Can a LFR/Processor charge for processing non commercial fish?

Answer: Yes. Any charges will need to be outside sale/barter trade or pecuniary gain. Usually charges relate to processing costs including packaging. There should be no association between charges made and the fish (i.e) payment in kind.

10. Question: Who is responsible for Health and Hygiene issues associated with the taking, storage and distribution of non-commercial fish?

Answer: The Fisheries Act and associated regulations allows for the taking, storage and distribution of the fish. Health and Hygiene issues are not enforced by MFish.

11. Question: Once fish is put into storage (Pataka) how can it be removed?

Answer: Legislation is silent on this issue. Once fish is legally taken and placed into the Pataka the scope of the South Island and Kaimoana regulations end. Fish taken out of the Pataka would then revert back to the “onus of proof” contained in the Fisheries Act. (i.e) Those in possession would need to prove that it was not taken contrary to the Act of regulations. It is suggested that Tangata Kaitiaki Tiaki's should “authorise” the removal of fish from storage using the authorisation associated with regulations 11 of the South Island and Kaimoana regulations. It is likely that this system would be specified by the Chief Executive as a condition of having non commercial customary fish on commercial (LFR) premises.

12. Question: Who is responsible for ensuring that non-commercial customary fish is not sold/bartered traded etc?

Answer: Those in possession of the fish. The South Island and Kaimoana regulations indicates that fish take is not for sale etc. Fish sold/traded etc contrary to the regulations will be outside of the regulations and subject to normal Fisheries Act/Regulatory sanctions, (Note this can include forfeiture and fines up to $250,000).

13. Question: What species may be taken and held in store for distribution?

Answer: All species managed by MFish. Kaimoana Regulations.

NOTE: must be held for a specific venue or venues. See Question 7.

14. Question: Can non-commercial customary fish be held in holding pots?

Answer: Yes – The fish have been taken and therefore the “onus of proof” rests with those in possession of the fish. The holding pot is either a transitional situation or storage. In all cases the fish will need to be associated with a valid authorisation.

5. Fish delivered to venue(s) or held exclusive for the venue(s) (still labelled but also included – date processed – weight).
6. Fish held in storage still labelled as per vessel but now includes date processed, species and weight).
7. Specific amounts to be held in storage. Tangata Tiaki/Kaitiaki’s may wish to specify amounts that may be held.
8. Fish held in storage will be released to the venue or venues shown on the authorisation by authorisation from a Tangata Tiaki/Kaitiaki.
9. LFR will hold/maintain records as per specified by Chief Executive (as per Section 192(7) of the Fisheries Act 1996):
 - (a) LFR will maintain a perpetual inventory of fish held in storage
 - (b) Copy of original authorisation
 - (c) Copy of authorisation for removal
 - (d) Fish labelled with authority number, date taken, date processed, vessel used, authorising Kaitiaki.

SUGGESTED PROCESS USING PATAKA CONCEPT

- Using Commercial vessels and Commercial premises)
 - Pursuant to Customary Regulations (South Island and Kaimoana)
 - Fish taken in a manner which is consistent with local tikanga
 - Purpose of taking needs to be specified but is not restricted
 - Concept of storage for future use is well established on a customary basis. Storage facility does not have to be in any specific location but will need to be under control of the LFR.
- Process
1. Commercial vessel is issued with a valid authorisation from a Tangata Tiaki/Kaitiaki for the taking of non-commercial customary fish for:
 - (a) either a specific purpose or
 - (b) the purpose of placing fish into storage (pataka)
 2. Fish taken will be identified with:
 - (a) name of authorising Tangata Tiaki/Kaitiaki
 - (b) date taken
 - (c) vessel used
 - (d) destination – (i.e) Marae or LFR
 - (e) Customary authorisation number
 3. Fish delivered to venue or LFR.
 4. Fish processed/packed.

- R27A - Any authorisation number starting with R27A relates to Regulation 27 of the Amateur Fishing Regulations.
- Kaimoana Regulations - Any authorisation number starting with a K is an Authorisation form for the Kaimoana Customary Fishing Regulations.
- South Island Regulations - Any authorisation number starting with SI is an Authorisation form for the South Island Customary Fishing Regulations.

Scenario One. Regulation 27A:

It has been reported to MFish that there is a vehicle under a bridge and there are four people who appear to be taking “lots of eels”!

An inspection reveals; four people in the creek, who claim to have a Regulation 27A authorisation in the car.

In the car is a brown sack full of paua, which range in size between 80 – 100 mm. There is also scuba gear in the car.

- What are the issues / problems (if any)?

Points of consideration:

- Signature of holder – Not signed
- Associated harvesters – One crossed out, gaps in lines which could be misused.
- Whanaungatanga – Is this enough information to determine Hui?
- Phone numbers – Are they acceptable as they are?
- Quantity of paua – Is this a legal account of quantity?
- Tuna
- Town creek – Is this enough information? (Name of Creek)
- Under bridge – Is this specific enough? (which bridge?)
- Authoriser – No phone number/ signature or date signed.
- Is the named Authoriser, the person who filled out the form?
- How are you going to clarify and follow up?
- Do you need to discuss with anybody and if so who?
- Does anything need clarification? If so how will this be done?
- Rule a line through any empty lines.
